

ABORIGINAL CIRCLE

GET KNOWN IN THE CIRCLE

The Aboriginal Circle is your one-stop shop to find information about programs, products, services, events, careers, news and other relevant information of interest to First Nation, Métis and Inuit people in Alberta.

It provides you with a window to find out what's going on in the Aboriginal community throughout Alberta and Canada. It is a useful tool for all segments of society from youth, students, teachers, community members, businesses, government, non-profit organizations and others. Search our directory of hundreds of profiles of these organizations and people and find the information you are looking for.

Further to the excellent information and directory features, the Aboriginal Circle is also an online community connected to hundreds of Aboriginal people. It represents an online gathering place for our people to share information.

Check our website regularly for profiles on role models, artists, musicians and other individuals and organizations who are working to empower our people. Get Known in the Circle!
